North America revenue +1.4% in Q2

PROFESSIONAL SOLUTIONS

- Frame business as the driver growing in both volumes and price-mix
- Varilux XR still fueling, Transitions Gen S off to a promising start
- Key accounts growing, while independents slowing down due to soft non-partner customers

DIRECT TO CONSUMER

- Robust optical retail chains sustained by insured customers
- Exam capacity expanded, also thanks to teleoptometry
- Sunglass Hut still hurt, with some relief from international locations and Ray-Ban Meta

Sunglass Hut Miami, Lincoln Road

EMEA revenue +7.9% in Q2

PROFESSIONAL SOLUTIONS

- Solid growth across geographies and product categories
- Varilux supported by XR series, Transitions Gen S launched in France, Italy, UK and Ireland
- Oakley as a top performer ahead of Olympics, new frame licenses contributing

DIRECT TO CONSUMER

- Optical business up double digits in comparable-store sales driven by integration
- “Vision as a Service” subscription model driving, with optical subscribers doubled
- Sun business slowing down due to adverse weather conditions

Ray-Ban Store Amsterdam

Asia-Pacific revenue +9.8% in Q2

PROFESSIONAL SOLUTIONS

- China underpinned by excellent myopia management category (Stellest above +80%)
- Continued positive momentum of sunglasses, in particular Oakley and luxury
- Strong Japan; healthy India, South Korea and Southeast Asia

DIRECT TO CONSUMER

- Positive performance, aligned between optical and sun
- OPSM improving and Sunglass Hut back to positive in Australia
- Japan retail doubled, sustained by acquisition of Washin Optical

OPSM Melbourne

Latin America revenue +8.6% in Q2

PROFESSIONAL SOLUTIONS

- Brazil negatively impacted by the floodings after a strong start
- Solid growth in Mexico driven by frames
- Tijuana Distribution Center ramping up

DIRECT TO CONSUMER

- Growth sustained by Mexican optical banners
- Former GV stores performing well upon renewed assortments
- Sun business in Mexico still negative, struggling with touristic locations
